Van Gogh as a letter-writer. The letters: from conventional to personal. 2.1 The earliest letters. It can be assumed that Tersteeg was an important formative influence on Vincent, as well as on Theo a couple of years later. Theo started work in January 1873 at the Goupil branch in Brussels, and was transferred to The Hague in November 1874 (letter 15). For his career as an art dealer see exhib. cat. He increasingly peppered his letters with quotations from the Bible and other edifying books. He used the Bible as the measure for all things, the New Testament in particular. As early as June 1875 he first cited the words from St Paul's second epistle to the Corinthians, which he quoted many times thereafter as if they were his personal motto: "sorrowful yet always rejoicing".
