Marzano, Robert J.; And Others Dimensions of Thinking: A Framework for Curriculum and Instruction. Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, Alexandria, Va. Office of Educational Research and Improvement (ED), Washington, DC. As a partial answer, the authors of Dimensions of Thinking have developed a frame-work intended to be the basis for curriculum and staff development programs. They have organized and clarified research and theory from several sources, including philosophy and cognitive psychology; in a form intended to be useful to practitioners. For example, we wanted to include the perspectives of both psychology and philosophy. Unfortunately, the two traditions are very different, so in a sense we were trying to reconcile the irreconcilable.
