Young Adult Fiction

I'll give you the sun

by Jandy Nelson

A story of first love and family loss follows the estrangement between daredevil Jude and her loner twin brother, Noah, as a result of a mysterious event that is brought to light by a beautiful, broken boy and a new mentor.

Simon vs. the Homo Sapiens agenda

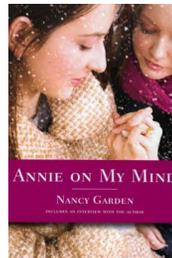

by Becky Albertalli

Sixteen-year-old, not-so-openly-gay Simon Spier is blackmailed into playing wingman for his classmate or else his sexual identity—and that of his pen pal—will be revealed.

Annie on my mind

by Nancy Garden

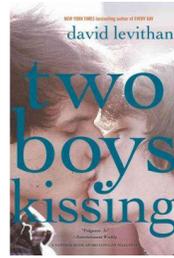

Liza begins to doubt her feelings for Annie after someone finds out about their relationship, and realizes, after starting college, that her denial of love for Annie was a mistake.

Pantomime

by Laura Lam

Gene, the daughter of a noble family, runs away from the decadence of court to R.H. Ragona's circus of magic, where she meets runaway Micah, whose blood could unlock the mysteries of the world of Ellada

Two boys kissing

by David Levithan

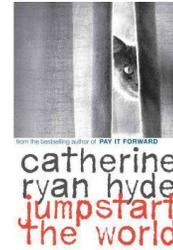

A chorus of men who have died of AIDS observes and yearns to help a cross-section of today's gay teens who navigate new love, long-term relationships, coming out, self-acceptance and more in a society that has changed in many ways. By the author of Boy Meets Boy.

Jumpstart the world

by Catherine Ryan Hyde

Sixteen-year-old Elle falls in love with Frank, the neighbor who helps her adjust to being on her own in a big city, but learning that he is transgendered turns her world upside-down.

Ash

by Malinda Lo

In this variation on the Cinderella story, Ash grows up believing in the fairy realm that the king and his philosophers have sought to suppress, until one day she must choose between a handsome fairy cursed to love her and the King's Huntress whom she loves.

When everything feels like the movies

by Raziel Reid

Jude is a beautiful boy who wears heels. People around him think he is a freak, but Jude sees his life as that of a Hollywood star. He navigates the pitfalls of high school with his best friend, Angela. Both gritty and flamboyant, this succinct novel is recommended for older teens and adults.

Fiction

Annabel

by Kathleen Winter

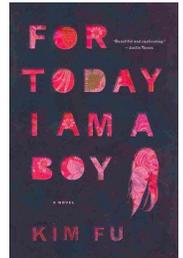

Raised as a boy but secretly nurtured as a girl by various family members, an intersex youth in 1970s Canada escapes his hometown and struggles to confront his dual identity as well as his allegiances to those he most loves.

For today I am a boy

by Kim Fu

Peter, the only boy among four siblings born to first-generation Chinese Americans, is convinced he's a girl and must fight the confines of a small town as well as the expectations of his immigrant parents to forge his own path into adulthood.

Blame It on the Mistletoe

by Eli Easton

When physics grad student Fielding Monroe and skirt-chaser and football player Mick Colman become college housemates, they're both in for a whole new education. Mick looks out for the absent-minded genius, and he helps Fielding clean up his appearance and discover all the silly pleasures his strict upbringing as a child prodigy denied him. They become best friends. It's all well and good until they run into a cheerleader who calls Mick the 'best kisser on campus.' Fielding has never been kissed, and he decides Mick and only Mick can teach him how it's done.

So, you see, Young Adult fiction attempts to do something different than Adult fiction. YA authors aspire to bottle the frantic metamorphoses of teenager-hood. Adult writers use childhood and teenage years to illustrate a certain point apart from the "essence" of young adulthood. Genres of audiobooks. Young Adult Fiction listen online.
