

COMPARATIVE
CONTRACT LAW
ENGLAND, FRANCE,
GERMANY

---

P. D. V. Marsh

Gower

Contents

---

Preface	ix
List of works cited by author only	xi
List of cases	xv
List of statutes	xxix
List of abbreviations	xxxv
1 Historical introduction	1
General purpose	1
Roman law origins	1
The reception of Roman law	3
The codification of French law	8
German law and its codification	13
The English law of contract	18
2 English common law and the civil law systems of France and Germany – primary distinctions	27
Divisions of the law	27
Conceptualism and pragmatism	33
Sources of law	34
Doctrine	37
Interpretation of contracts and good faith	38
3 Essentials of a valid contract	41
General requirements	41
Elements common to all three systems	42
Offers and invitations to treat	42
German law	49
Uniform law for international sales	54
4 Termination of offers and withdrawal from negotiations	58
Termination of offers under English law	58
Termination of offers under French law	59
Termination of offers under German law	63
Letters of intent – comparative summary	65
The Vienna Convention	65

5 Acceptance	69
The fact of acceptance under English law	69
The fact of acceptance under French law	70
The fact of acceptance under German law	74
The battle of the forms	77
The Vienna Convention	79
6 Objet	83
French law	83
English law comparison	87
German law comparison	89
The Vienna Convention	91
7 Cause and consideration	95
Cause – French law	95
Cause – German law – and unjust enrichment	100
Consideration	103
8 Mistake and misrepresentation – English law	112
Mistake	112
Misrepresentation	116
9 Mistake, fraud and the obligation to inform – French law	121
Mistake	121
English law comparisons	123
Dol et l'obligation de renseignements	124
English law comparison	128
10 Mistake – German law	133
General basis	133
Mistake as to expression	133
Mistake as to essential quality	133
Mistake and the formation of the contract	135
Mistake as to the basis of the contract	136
Fraud	136
11 Performance obligations	140
General	140
Conformity of the goods/work/services with the contract – English law	141
Comparative note on latent defects	146
12 Performance obligations under civil law – general	150
The particular regimes for vice caché	151

The Roman actions	151
Modern code provisions	153
The Roman origins of réception ( Abnahme )	153
Liability, whether fault-based or not	154
13 Contracts for sale – French law	167
Obligations of the seller pre-delivery	167
Remedies of the purchaser	171
Breach of a contractual guaranty	176
Obligation of security	177
14 Contracts for works – French law	183
Obligations of the contractor	183
Réception	185
Suppliers	194
Sub-contractors	196
Responsabilité solidairement et ‘in solidum’	197
Assurance	198
Time for performance	199
Remedy of the employer	200
15 Contracts for sale – German law	205
Sources	205
Obligations of the seller	206
Remedies in damages	211
Time for delivery	216
Positive breach of contract	219
Anticipatory breach	219
16 Contracts for works – German law	222
Obligations of the contractor ( Auftragnehmer )	223
Defects prior to completion ( Abnahme )	225
Completion ( Abnahme )	227
Remedies of the client after Abnahme	227
Time for performance	232
Responsibility of the architect	234
17 Transfer of property and risk	238
Specific goods	239
Unascertained goods	242
Future goods	243
Contracts for works	245
The passing of risk	246

18	Reservation of title and transfer of title to third parties	250
	Reservation of title – English law	250
	Reservation of title – French law	253
	Reservation of title – German law	257
	Passing of title by a non-owner – English law	259
	Passing of title by a non-owner – French law	261
	Passing of title by a non-owner – German law	263
19	The contract and third parties: liabilities in contract and tort	268
	English law	269
	French law	272
	German law	279
	Comparative conclusions	286
20	The control of unfair terms	290
	The broad issue of unfairness	290
	Clauses excluding or limiting liability	293
	Comparative summary	307
21	Remedies and excuses for non-performance	310
	English law	310
	French law	319
	Comparison with English law	325
	German law	337
	Comparative conclusions	346
	Index	351

comparative law, its functions, aims, methods and history. It also intends to survey the main features of the major legal families of the world (civil law, Anglo-American common law, non-Western legal traditions in Asia, Sharia, and mixed jurisdictions), so that the students would have the 'map' of the world's legal systems. Finally, the course introduces comparative legal studies of today's globalized world with extended methods of 'postmodern' comparative law (contextualised approach to legal systems and institutes). 3. Learning Outcomes After completing the course students are... The place contract law in the common law system. Approaches to the contract, the doctrine of Law and Economics. Concept and types of contract. Elements of the contract.