Your city tomorrow

Our City of Tomorrow vision explores how near-term mobility advancements such as autonomous and electric vehicles, ride sharing, ride-hailing, and connected vehicles could potentially interact with urban infrastructure and create a more cohesive transportation ecosystem. Advancements and investments in emerging opportunities such as our new ride-sharing app Chariot, wireless charging for electric cars, and progress in traffic management can Read the full-text online edition of Your City Tomorrow (1947).^Â Cities and towns that are truly good places in which to live and work and play need not be essentially different tomorrow in the Age of Atomic Power from what they ought to be today, in the age of the automobile and the flying machine. They need not, that is, unless mankind turns out to be so devoid of intelligence and imagination that recurrent warfare with atomic bombs must be anticipated.
